

CL5001 Themes and Methods in Classical Research 1

SCOTCAT Credits:	30	SCQF level 11	Semester	1
Academic year:	2021-2022
Planned timetable:	TBC
This module forms the first part of the core training provided in the MLitt in Classics. The focus of the first semester's core is on the sources for the study of the Classical world, how to access them (i.e. the resources available for classical research), and how to use this material sensitively and appropriately. The module is appropriate for all MLitt students regardless of their specific interests, and covers the full range of evidence from antiquity, including literary, philosophical, historiographical and other written sources (including how to work with fragmentary sources, textual transmission and other questions); material evidence (including ancient art, excavation, field survey, museum collections). The module also includes a number of workshop sessions on practical skills (e.g. presentations, research proposals etc.) and on theoretical approaches to classical evidence (e.g. narratology, practical criticism).
Learning and teaching methods of delivery:	Weekly contact: 2-hour seminar (x 10), 1-hour workshops (x6), 2 hours of fieldwork in total
Assessment pattern:	72-hour Take-Home Practical Examination = 75%, Coursework = 25%
Re-assessment pattern:	72-hour Take-home Practical Examination = 100%

CL5002 Themes and Methods in Classical Research 2

SCOTCAT Credits:	30	SCQF level 11	Semester	2
Academic year:	2021-2022
Planned timetable:	TBC
This module forms the second part of the core training provided in the MLitt in Classics. The focus of the second semester's core is a series of seminars structured around themes in classical research (e.g. the environment, performance, reception). The module is appropriate for all MLitt students regardless of their specific interests. The module also includes a number of workshops on practical 'life skills', e.g. careers (in Classics and beyond), publishing, teaching, outreach and impact, and a small number of theory workshops which support the thematic seminars by introducing students to some key theoretical approaches used in research on the Classical world.
Learning and teaching methods of delivery:	Weekly contact: 2-hour seminar (x 11 weeks), 1-hour workshop (x 8 hours); oral presentations (up to maximum of 10 hours total)

LT1001 Elementary Latin 1
SCOTCAT Credits:	20	SCQF level 7	Semester	1
Academic year:	2021-2022
Planned timetable:	3.00 pm
This module provides a systematic introduction to the Latin language, concentrating on morphology, vocabulary, and basic syntax, and will enable students to read simplified Latin texts and translate sentences from Latin into English and vice versa. It is complemented by LT1002, and will thus give access to Latin at higher levels, but it may also be taken by students whose main interests lie in other areas, such as history, foreign languages and English. It is also suitable for students who have taken some Latin previously, but not to Higher or A-Level, or who have taken Higher or A-Level Latin on reduced time.
Anti-requisite(s)	You cannot take this module if you take LT1003

LT1003 World of Latin 1
SCOTCAT Credits:	20	SCQF level 7	Semester 1
Academic year:	2021-2022
Planned timetable:	3.00 pm
The aims of this module, like LT1004, are to enhance understanding of Latin grammar and syntax, to increase vocabulary, to give a basic understanding of style, and to develop skills in translating and interpreting literary texts. A selection of classical Latin texts are studied, and students are encouraged and assisted to practise reading independently and in extenso. There will be tutorials to support this work and to help with the translation and appreciation of these and other Latin prose and verse authors.
Pre-requisite(s):	Students must have Higher or A-level Latin or equivalent
Anti-requisite(s)	You cannot take this module if you take LT1001
Learning and teaching methods of delivery:	Weekly contact: 2 - 4 classes.
