EN5017 Old English

SCOTCAT Credits:	20	SCQF level 11	Semester	Full Year
Academic year:	2021-2022
Availability restrictions:	Availability to be confirmed over the summer.
Planned timetable:	To be arranged
A grounding in Old English grammar and translation from Old English will be acquired with the help of grammar exercises and translation practice on original Old English texts. It is recognised that students may join this module with widely varying levels of experience of Old English, from none to fairly extensive. The aim is to get all students to an acceptable level of proficiency in reading and translation, and this is reflected in the assessment of this module by two translation exercises. Time and students' linguistic expertise permitting, some literary contextualisation of the texts studied and translated may also be included. Virtual learning tools will assist students in their acquisition of the necessary knowledge of Old English grammar, vocabulary and syntax.
Learning and teaching methods of delivery:	Weekly contact: 11 x 1.5 hr seminars
Assessment pattern:	Coursework = 100%
Re-assessment pattern:	One new submission equivalent in length and nature to the failed piece of coursework. The piece submitted for reassessment must be entirely new work.

EN5018 Middle English Literature in Context
SCOTCAT Credits:	40	SCQF level 11	Semester	Full Year
Academic year:	2021-2022
Availability restrictions:	Availability to be confirmed over the summer
Planned timetable:	To be arranged
This module teaches culturally central Middle English and Scottish texts from the later Middle Ages within their wider cultural context. Fortnightly seminars examine a historical and generic variety of major literary texts produced from 1200 to 1500. Syllabus texts may range from the early Worcester Fragments, studied in their manuscript context, to Scots writers (and St Andrews graduates!) such as Gavin Douglas, whose work stretches into the early sixteenth century. Examples of key medieval genres such as saints' lives and romance are compared to their sources, counterparts or influences in other languages or earlier forms of English.
Learning and teaching methods of delivery:	Weekly contact: 11 x 2 hr seminars (normally fortnightly)
Assessment pattern:	Coursework = 100%
Re-assessment pattern:	One new submission equivalent in length and nature to the failed piece of coursework. The piece submitted for reassessment must be entirely new work.

EN5105 Writing for Performance 1
SCOTCAT Credits:	40	SCQF level 11	Semester	1
Academic year:	2021-2022
Availability restrictions:	Available only to students on MLitt /MFA in Playwriting and Screenwriting
Planned timetable:	To be arranged
This module is designed to introduce key playwriting skills as well as writing for younger audiences and radio. There will be focus on new writing, and a particular emphasis on Scottish work and its place within contemporary theatre practice. Seminars will explore technical aspects of playwriting such as setting, character, and dialogue; in addition they will examine how playwrights challenge their audience. There is a growing audience for theatre for children, and the module will look at key practitioners in this area; in 'writing for radio', it will also address the techniques involved in writing for a mass audience. Teaching will be by a) one two hour seminar per week and b) one dramaturgical workshop per week.
Learning and teaching methods of delivery:	Weekly contact: 2 hour seminar and 2 hour dramaturgy workshop (x 11 weeks), tutorials by appointment
Assessment pattern:	Coursework = 100%

EN5106 Writing for Performance 2
SCOTCAT Credits:	60	SCQF level 11	Semester	2
Academic year:	2021-2022
Availability restrictions:	Available only to students on MLitt /MFA in Playwriting and Screenwriting
Planned timetable:	10.30 - 12.30 Tues
The module is designed to consolidate playwriting skills gained in Writing for Performance 1 (EN5105) and to introduce writing for the radio and for the screen. Seminars continue to build on both the technical aspects of writing a play or screenplay such as dialogue, characterization, image structure, and dramatic action. Additionally, metaphor, the individual voice of the playwright / screenwriter and the ambition and reach of the contemporary play or film in the wider context are all discussed and explored using core texts and secondary reading. Dramaturgy sessions allow students' work to be read aloud, explored, developed, and experienced in a group setting.
Pre-requisite(s):	Before taking this module you must take EN5105
Learning and teaching methods of delivery:	Weekly contact: 2 hours of seminars (X11 weeks), 2 hours of dramaturgy (X11 weeks), 4 consultation hours (on average as required) over the semester.
Assessment pattern:	Coursework = 100% (Radio play of 15 mins (around 3000 words) with accompanying reflective commentary (1000 words), a 2000 word synopsis and a screenplay of 30 minutes (around 4000-6000 words).)”

EN5112 Theories and Contexts

SCOTCAT Credits:	40	SCQF level 11	Semester	Full Year
Academic year:	2021-2022
Planned timetable:	To be arranged
The module provides an introduction to key debates in contemporary feminist and gender theory, alongside an overview of the historical and cultural context within which these theories have developed. The emphasis will be upon the course as a point of departure, and the seminars will be accompanied by an extensive reading list through which the students will be encouraged to explore those areas of enquiry that most interest them.
Learning and teaching methods of delivery:	Weekly contact: 12 x 2 hour seminars (normally fortnightly across the year)
Assessment pattern:	Coursework = 100%
Re-assessment pattern:	One new submission equivalent in length and nature to the failed piece of coursework. The piece submitted for reassessment must be entirely new work.

EN5115 Women, Writing and Gender 1: Renaissance to Romanticism

SCOTCAT Credits:	20	SCQF level 11	Semester	1
Academic year:	2021-2022
Planned timetable:	To be arranged
The module seeks to introduce students to a range of debates concerning women, writing and gender through history. The set texts embrace a variety of generic forms, and reflect upon such questions as the 'problem' of woman's voice. Central to many of the works are such concerns as the role of woman in marriage and civic society, the importance of education, and the tension between domestic ideology and female desire. Central to these works is a concern with constructions of femininity and masculinity and in conjunction with EN5112, the module will also examine current critical debates surrounding the cultural configuration of gender.
Learning and teaching methods of delivery:	Weekly contact: 1.5 hour seminar (x 9 weeks)
Assessment pattern:	Coursework = 100%
Re-assessment pattern:	One new submission equivalent in length and nature to the failed piece of coursework. The piece submitted for reassessment must be entirely new work.

EN5116 Women, Writing and Gender 2: Victorian to Contemporary

SCOTCAT Credits:	20	SCQF level 11	Semester	2
Academic year:	2021-2022
Planned timetable:	To be arranged
This module continues the chronological survey of debates surrounding women, writing and gender begun by EN5115. The module examines continuity and change in constructions of gender across the period 1800 to the present. Students will be introduced to key critical readings of nineteenth-century women's writing, before moving on to consider the work of modernist writers and a range of contemporary writers whose rewriting of history and myth engages with current debates in gender theory.
Pre-requisite(s):	Before taking this module you must pass EN5115
Learning and teaching methods of delivery:	Weekly contact: 1.5 hour seminar (x 9 weeks)
Assessment pattern:	Coursework = 100%

EN5204 Literary History, Politics, Culture

SCOTCAT Credits:	40	SCQF level 11	Semester	2
Academic year:	2021-2022
Planned timetable:	To be arranged
This module explores the interactions of literature and its various historical, philosophical, cultural and political contexts in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries. Many of the authors we study as producers of imaginative literature also engaged in polemical, historical or philosophical writing. Literary works could make decisive and poignant contributions to particular political debates, and the literary sphere itself had its own politics. This module explores how thoroughly literature was connected to the broader discursive and historical world. Topics likely to be covered include Romantic medievalism; socialism, aestheticism and decadence; antisemitism and Englishness; and literature and the slave trade.
Learning and teaching methods of delivery:	Weekly contact: 2 x 1.5-hour seminars (x 9 weeks)

EN5301 The Continental Renaissance

SCOTCAT Credits:	20	SCQF level 11	Semester	2
Academic year:	2021-2022
Planned timetable:	To be arranged
English literature did not develop in isolation, but in response to continental writing. This module will investigate the relationship between the literature of the English Renaissance and the European vernaculars of the period. It will examine continental texts, their early modern English translations, and English work influenced by them. Possible topics for discussion include: Petrarch's sonnets and their English imitators and adaptors; Ariosto's Orlando Furioso; the political writing of Machiavelli; theories of translation; and Castiglione's Libro del Cortegiano and its influence. All texts will be taught in English.
Learning and teaching methods of delivery:	Weekly contact: 1.5 hour seminar (x 8 weeks)
Assessment pattern:	Coursework = 100%
Re-assessment pattern:	One new submission equivalent in length and nature to the failed piece of coursework. The piece submitted for reassessment must be entirely new work.

EN5302 Shakespeare and Textual Culture
SCOTCAT Credits:	20	SCQF level 11	Semester	1
Academic year:	2021-2022
Planned timetable:	To be arranged
This module offers students a thorough grounding in the palaeographical and bibliographical skills required to study Renaissance literature (with an introduction to electronic resources), in tandem with an investigation of contemporary readings of the textual culture of the period. Themes for discussion may include: the relationship between manuscript, orality and print in the early modern period; theories of authorship; the relationship between performance and playtext in the Renaissance theatre; editorial theory.
Learning and teaching methods of delivery:	Weekly contact: 1.5 hour seminar (x 5 weeks), 2 hour palaeography workshop (x5 weeks)
Assessment pattern:	Coursework = 100% (broken down into 50% essay and 50% palaeography exercise)

EN5303 Renaissance Popular Culture
SCOTCAT Credits:	20	SCQF level 11	Semester	2
Academic year:	2021-2022
Planned timetable:	To be arranged
This module aims to build upon the themes explored in EN5304, 'Learned Culture'. Here, the emphasis is less upon rhetoric and classroom practice in the sixteenth century, and more upon Renaissance literature's engagement with a wider field of influences and practice, explored as aspects of 'the popular' in its widest sense. Themes for discussion may include: the place of the stage; popular festivity and literary form; ballads and print; jests and alehouses; drama and the city; the impact of the Reformation; and news pamphlets.

EN5401 Special Topic in English Studies 1

SCOTCAT Credits:	20	SCQF level 11	Semester	1
Academic year:	2021-2022
Planned timetable:	To be arranged
This module operates as a directed reading programme which allows students to explore topics in greater depth than is possible in core modules. Special Topics are offered by selected staff across all MLitt programmes on a rotating basis. Students who hope to go on to doctoral work may wish to use the Special Topic to conduct a pilot study in their proposed area of doctoral studies. Teaching/supervision is normally via 6 tutorials which may be individual or arranged in groups, depending on numbers. Some special topics may make use of relevant individual seminars on extant modules in place of one or more tutorials. Syllabus and reading will be finalised in consultation with the member(s) of staff.
Learning and teaching methods of delivery:	Weekly contact: Normally 6 tutorials over the semester

EN5501 Contextualising the Modern
SCOTCAT Credits:	20	SCQF level 11	Semester	1
Academic year:	2021-2022
Planned timetable:	To be arranged
Modernism, in its narrowest sense, refers to the radical literary experiments that occurred in English poetry and prose in the aftermath of the First World War by writers which may include T.S. Eliot, James Joyce and Virginia Woolf. This module will explore those experiments in the context of the wider movements in culture and society that informed literary modernism in the first decades of the twentieth century.

EN5502 Reading the Modern

SCOTCAT Credits:	20	SCQF level 11	Semester	1
Academic year:	2021-2022
Planned timetable:	To be arranged
Responding to what Pericles Lewis has termed the 'crisis of representation' in the opening decades of the twentieth century, this module explores attempts by writers to find new literary subjects and forms. In tandem with module EN5501, which considers the impact of political, social, scientific, technological and cultural revolution on literary traditions and techniques, this module explores the pursuit of a number of influential British, American and French modernists to develop modes of representation compatible with a newly urban, industrialised, mass-oriented age.

EN5511 Theorising the Contemporary

SCOTCAT Credits:	20	SCQF level 11	Semester	2
Academic year:	2021-2022
Planned timetable:	To be arranged
The second half of the twentieth century and the beginning of the twenty-first century witnessed an explosion of theories about literature and culture in an attempt to understand the complexities of a historical period characterised by political, economic and social upheaval and rapid advancements in science and technology. This module will introduce students to key literary and cultural theories within the contemporary period via the close study of selected theoretical texts. Theories covered may include Marxism, postmodernism, deconstruction, poststructuralism, postcolonialism, queer theory, ecocriticism and contemporary poetics.

EN5512 Contemporary Literature and Culture
SCOTCAT Credits:	20	SCQF level 11	Semester	2
Academic year:	2021-2022
Planned timetable:	To be arranged
In tandem with the theoretical and philosophical perspectives studied on EN5511, this module introduces students to a range of late twentieth and early twenty-first century writing. Focussed through both national and international perspectives, this module provides the opportunity to reflect on the proliferation of diverse literatures and other forms of cultural production in the contemporary world. The course is designed to expose students to a range of contemporary authors, poets and playwrights, moving between a detailed focus on highlighted key works and a wider a perspective on individual writer's oeuvres. Topics and themes may include: ecocriticism, postmodernism, terrorism, genre, magical realism, experimental writing, sexualities, globalisation and postcolonialism.

EN5601 Approaches, Theories, Contexts 1
SCOTCAT Credits:	20	SCQF level 11	Semester	1
Academic year:	2021-2022
Planned timetable:	To be arranged
Few fields of literary studies are riven with the debates, contestations and counter-arguments that characterise postcolonialism. This module explores the range of theoretical positions and diverse historical contexts that inform postcolonial studies across a global range of theorists. In this module, we will focus on the evolution of postcolonialism from theories of colonial discourse and an emergent concept of world literature, to decolonisation and the emergence of postcolonial studies in the late twentieth-century. Topics studied may include: abolition and empire; orientalism; colonial cinema; Victorian Britain and Empire; Marxist and materialist critiques; and the development of world literature.

EN5603 Literature and Culture from the Colonial to the Postcolonial

SCOTCAT Credits:	20	SCQF level 11	Semester	1
Academic year:	2021-2022
Planned timetable:	To be arranged
This first semester module traces the global sweep of literary and cultural histories that have shaped the field of postcolonial studies. Reaching across a wide historical period from eighteenth and nineteenth century imperialism and empire, through post-war decolonisation and independence, this module aims to enhance students' understanding of the literary texts, films and cultural products that are the subject of postcolonial critique. Students will study works drawn from across Africa, the Caribbean, India, Ireland, as well as from the former centres of imperial power. Topics and areas of study may include: orientalism; 18th century and empire; 19th century colonial writers; modernism and empire; surrealism; negritude; literatures of independence; Goethe and world literature.

EN5604 Postcolonial and World Literatures
SCOTCAT Credits:	20	SCQF level 11	Semester	2
Academic year:	2021-2022
Planned timetable:	To be arranged
Understood as a mapping of texts as they circulate globally and come into contact with diverse cultures and readerships, world literature criticism shares much in common with postcolonialism, yet it is a relationship that has received little attention to date. In tandem with the theoretical contexts studied on 'Approaches, Theories, Contexts 2' this module focuses on postcolonial literatures in the late 20th and 21st centuries. Exploring the work of contemporary writers, this module aims to map the dimensions of postcolonial and world literatures through a range of texts drawn from across the globe and which reflect on a new reality of transnationalism, globalisation and post-nationalism. Topics and writers studied may include contemporary Irish writing; globalisation and literature; postcolonial theatre; Roberto Bolano; J. M. Coetzee; Jhumpa Lahiri; Nadia Mohamed; and Irvine Welsh.

EN5801 Practical Pedagogy for Creative Writers
SCOTCAT Credits:	0	SCQF level 11	Semester	Full Year
Academic year:	2021-2022
Availability restrictions:	Available only to the students in Year 2 of the MFA in Creative Writing
Planned timetable:	To be arranged
The module covers many aspects of teaching creative writing from a practical and theoretical perspective, including teaching close reading, workshop and feedback styles, and 'the writing exercise'. Each student will also be involved in the design, co-ordination and teaching of a simulacrum of a Creative Writing module; this will be delivered in an 8-week, entirely student-run evening class (non-credit bearing for the participants). In addition, students will have the opportunity to learn first-hand about the role of publishing in the dissemination of creative writing by assisting with the running of the School's international literary journal, The Scores.
