Modules

Film Studies (FM) Modules

FM1001 Key Concepts in Film Studies

Credits: 20.0 Semester: 1

Description: In this introductory module, we examine key concepts and approaches that are relevant to the study of film. Basic concepts such as genre, auteur, narrative, stardom and acting, spectatorship, and audiences will be considered. We will also explore film form, montage, mise-en-scene and the development of the film industry. We shall begin to examine non-traditional films and filmmaking such as the avant-garde, and art cinema and introduce students to notions such as art cinemas, national cinemas and world cinemas. The module includes screenings of important cinematic texts.

Class Hour: 3.00 pm Monday and Thursday, 7.00 – 10.00 pm Tuesday (screening)

Teaching: Two lectures and a screening weekly, plus occasional seminars.

Assessment: Continuous Assessment: Essay = 40%, Quiz = 10%, 2 Hour Examination = 50%

Re-Assessment: 100% - at discretion of Board of Examiners.

Modern Languages – Sub-honours 2006/07 – April 2006

FM1002 Film History and Historiography

Credits: 20.0 Semester: 2

Prerequisite: FM1001

Description: This module introduces key movements and moments in film history, including: early cinema, German Expressionism, Soviet montage, Surrealism, Classical Hollywood, Italian neo-realism, cinéma direct and vérité, la nouvelle vague, and classical Japanese cinema. Consideration will be given to the development of international film industries and movements. We will also examine the process of writing and researching film history and the status of film as an historical artefact. What kinds of cultural, social and/or political knowledge can we discern from films of the past? How do the choices we make as to what to deem relevant and irrelevant information in regard to film history affect the way in which the cinematic past is understood?

Class Hour: 3.00 pm Monday and Thursday, 7.00 – 10.00 pm Tuesday (screening)

Teaching: Two lectures and a screening weekly, plus occasional seminars.

Assessment: Continuous Assessment: Essay = 40%, Quiz = 10%, 2 Hour Examination = 50%

Re-Assessment: 100% - at discretion of Board of Examiners.

FM2001 Modern World Cinemas

Credits: 20.0 Semester: 1

Prerequisite: FM1001

Description: This module continues the exploration of issues of film history and historiography which began in FM1002. It introduces students to the most important cinematic developments of the second part of the Twentieth century (such as, among others, nouvelle vague, new German cinema, Brazilian cinema novo, New Hollywood, American indies, Chinese and African cinema, new Iranian cinema) and provides exposure to the work of some of the most important cinestetes of the world. The exploration of the history of cinematic art is contextualized in a way that provides adequate understanding of the forces that shape its profoundly transnational production and distribution. The module aims to provide a proper understanding of the complex topo-temporal dynamics of world cinema in the global context.

Class Hour: 3.00 pm Tuesday and Friday, Wednesday evening (screening)

Teaching: Two lectures and a screening weekly, plus occasional seminars.

Assessment: Continuous Assessment: Essay = 50%, 2 Hour Examination = 50%

Re-Assessment: 100% - at discretion of Board of Examiners.

FM2002 Film Culture, Theory, Entertainment

Credits: 20.0 Semester: 2

Prerequisite: FM2001

Description: This module introduces a range of approaches to cinema, their relationship to culture and the politics of entertainment. The changing historical attitudes towards cinema are examined against the background of influential popular cinematic texts. The first group of lectures examines the early answers to the question “what is cinema?” and investigates those attempts at theorizing cinema that preceded the emergence of film studies as a canonized subject. In the second part of the module, the focus is on the consolidation of the field in the 1970s, revealing how newly emerged cultural concerns and issues of class, race, gender, and nationality influenced the new interpretation of cinema. The module concludes by examining how “Screen theory” both rejuvenated the field and necessitated its future rethinking.

Class Hour: 3.00 pm Tuesday and Friday, Wednesday evening (screening)

Teaching: Two lectures and a screening weekly, plus occasional seminars.

Assessment: Continuous Assessment: Essay = 50%, 2 Hour Examination = 50%

Re-Assessment: 100% - at discretion of Board of Examiners.

French (FR) Modules

FR1001 French Language and Literature I

Credits: 20.0 Semester: 1

Prerequisites: Higher, SYS or A-level French (or European equivalent, or International Baccalauréat, or AP score of 4 or 5, or SATII score of 700+).

Anti-requisite: FR1011

Description: This module aims to bridge the gulf between school and university French studies by developing the language skills of post A-Level/Higher entrants and offering them a grounding in the literary and cultural tradition in France. In particular, it aims to ensure grammatical competence and promote comprehension and production in both written and spoken modes, and to teach the reading of French literary texts in their socio-cultural context and develop basic skills of literary criticism.

Class Hour: 9.00 am

Teaching: Four or Four-and-a-half hours.

Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, 2 Hour Examination = 60%

Re-Assessment: 3 Hour Examination = 100%

FR1002 French Language and Literature II

Credits: 20.0 Semester: 2

Prerequisite: FR1001

Anti-requisite: FR1012

Description: This module aims to ensure grammatical competence and promote comprehension and production in written and spoken modes, and to teach the reading of French literary texts in their socio-cultural background and develop basic skills of literary criticism, building on FR1001.

Class Hour: 9.00 am

Teaching: Four or Four-and-a-half hours.

Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, 2 Hour Examination = 60%

Re-Assessment: 3 Hour Examination = 100%

FR1011 French I (Science)

Credits: 20.0 Semester: 1

Prerequisites: Standard Grade French (Credit Level 1) or GCSE French (Grade A) or equivalent.

Co-requisites: 40 credits in modules offered in the Faculty of Science.

Anti-requisite: FR1001

Description: The module offers practical linguistic preparation with a view to relevant Science degrees with French and/or SOCRATES exchanges for Science students with post-beginner level qualifications. Linguistic skills developed are (i) core linguistic skills (grammar, lexis, discourse); (ii) communicative competence (comprehension, expression) based on science materials.

Class Hour: 1.00 pm Tuesday and Thursday and two tutorial hours by arrangement.

Teaching: Two seminars and two tutorials.

Credits: 20.0 Semester: 2

Prerequisites: FR1011 or Higher or A-level or AS-level French or equivalent.

Co-requisites: 40 credits in modules offered in the Faculty of Science.

Anti-requisite: FR1002

Description: The module offers practical linguistic preparation with a view to relevant Science degrees with French and/or SOCRATES exchanges for entrant students with Higher/AS/A-level qualifications. Linguistic skills developed are (i) core linguistic skills (grammar, lexis, discourse); (ii) communicative competence (comprehension, expression) based on science materials. Linguistic preparation builds on FR1011 with a more significant input on writing skills.

Class Hour: 1.00 pm Tuesday and Thursday, and two tutorial hours by arrangement

Teaching: Two seminars and two tutorials.

Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, One-and-a-quarter hour written Examination plus a 15-minute Oral Examination = 60%

Re-Assessment: 2 Hour Examination = 100%

FR2015 French III (Science)

Credits: 20.0 Semester: 1

Prerequisite: FR1012

Co-requisites: 40 credits in modules offered in the Faculty of Science

Description: The module develops the communication skills, spoken and written, introduced in modules FR1011 and FR1012. It also aims to consolidate the grammatical base.

Class Hour: 1.00 pm Tuesday and Thursday, and two tutorials by arrangement.

Teaching: Two seminars and two practical oral classes.

Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 100%

Re-Assessment: 2 Hour Examination = 100%

FR2016 French IV (Science)

Credits: 20.0 Semester: 2

Prerequisite: FR2015

Co-requisites: 40 credits in modules offered in the Faculty of Science

Description: The module develops the communication skills, spoken and written, taught in FR2015. It also aims to further consolidate the grammatical base. It completes the pre-Honours training in French for the Science student, giving access to 3000-level and also prepares students wishing to participate in SOCRATES exchanges in France.

Class Hour: 1.00 pm Tuesday and Thursday, and two tutorials by arrangement.

Teaching: Two seminars and two practical oral classes.

Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, 15-minute Oral Examination = 30%, 2 Hour Examination = 30%

Re-Assessment: 2 Hour Examination = 100%

FR2021 French Language and Society (1)

Credits: 20.0 Semester: 1

Prerequisite: FR1002

Anti-requisites: FR2013, FR2031

Description: The module comprises two main elements: (i) French Language and History, which develops language skills through the combined study of the French language and the development of French society; (ii) Introduction to French Linguistics, a component which provides a preliminary insight into the relationship between the French language and society and how the French language is structured.

Class Hour: 12.00 noon

Teaching: Four or five hours.

Modern Languages – Sub-honours 2006/07 – April 2006

German (GM) Modules

GM1001 First Level German A I

Credits: 20.0 Semester: 1

Prerequisites: SCE Higher or A-Level German or equivalent.

Description: The module, which lays the foundation for study of German language and literature at university level, is designed for students of German as a foreign language. Two weekly language classes and self-access computer-assisted language practice aim to develop speaking, reading and writing skills and grammatical competence, using materials which cover aspects of contemporary German society and culture. Weekly lectures and seminars introduce students to the study of modern German literature. Based on a range of texts, including prose fiction, poetry and drama, the course aims to help students acquire the skills of reading and analysing literary texts and exploring their historical and cultural significance.

Class Hour: 3.00 pm Tuesday and 3.00 pm Friday.

Teaching: One lecture, one seminar, two language classes, CALL classroom work.

Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, 2 Hour Examination = 60%

Re-Assessment: 3 Hour Examination = 100%

GM1002 First Level German A II

Credits: 20.0 Semester: 2

Prerequisite: GM1001

Description: This module builds on the foundation study of German language and literature in Module GM1001. Language classes and CALL practice will further develop speaking, reading and writing skills and grammatical competence, using materials which cover aspects of contemporary German society and culture. Lectures and seminars extend the study of modern literary texts and film, helping students to develop further their reading and analytical skills and placing the texts in their social and cultural historical context.

Class Hour: 3.00 pm Tuesday and 3.00 pm Friday.

Teaching: One lecture, one seminar, two language classes, CALL classroom work.

Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, 2 Hour Examination = 60%

Re-Assessment: 3 Hour Examination = 100%

GM1003 First Level German B I

Credits: 20.0 Semester: 1

Anti-requisite: SCE Higher German or its equivalent

Description: The module provides the first half of an intensive language programme for beginners and those with Standard Grade or GCSE German. Students taking the module are strongly advised to proceed to module GM1004 in the second semester. Completion of the two modules can provide a one-year foundation for those students looking for an ancillary language skill, or it can lead to entry into the Second Level German course and subsequently to an Honours degree in German. The emphasis will be primarily on the acquisition of competence in the German language, both written and spoken, and activities in class will combine the teaching of grammar with the development of communicative competence and written skills.

Class Hour: 4.00 pm Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, Friday.

Teaching: Four language classes.

Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, 2 Hour Examination = 60%

Re-Assessment: 3 Hour Examination = 100%

GM1004 First Level German B II

Credits: 20.0 Semester: 2

Prerequisite: GM1003

Description: The module represents the second half of the intensive language courses for beginners and those with intermediate qualifications. ML2003 European Art Song in the Nineteenth Century

Credits: 20.0 Semester: 2

Description: The module covers the development of the art song in Germany and France from 1800 to 1900. It explores a selection of outstanding songs from major German and French composers, including Schubert, Schumann, Wolf, Faure and Debussy. While music is the main focus, the module also looks closely at the poetry associated with the history of song, in particular song texts by e.g. Goethe, Heine and Verlaine. Songs will be related to their social, musical and literary contexts, and students will be encouraged to develop their own ideas on the relationship between music and poetry. Students should already have some understanding of musical notation; a knowledge of French and German may be advantageous but is not a requirement, since translations of song texts will be provided.

Class Hour: To be arranged.

Teaching: Two lectures and one seminar.

Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, 3 Hour Examination = 60%

Re-Assessment: 3 Hour Examination = 100%

RU2001 Intermediate Russian Language I

Credits: 20.0 Semester: 1

Prerequisite: RU1002

Anti-requisites: RU2003, RU2005

Description: Following on RU1001-RU1002, this module represents the least intensive of the three second-level Russian tracks. The most important elements of Russian grammar given in the first year are reinforced in this course, and further points of grammar and syntax are taught. There are regular exercises of translation from Russian into English. Spoken Russian is improved through small-group oral tuition classes with a native language instructor.

Class Hour: 10.00 am plus one oral hour to be arranged.

Teaching: Five classes.

Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, 2 Hour Examination = 60%

Re-Assessment: 3 Hour Examination = 100%

RU2002 Intermediate Russian Language II

Credits: 20.0 Semester: 2

Prerequisite: RU2001 or RU2003

Anti-requisites: RU2004, RU2006

Description: The module continues the work provided in RU2001 and provides a comprehensive and thorough grounding in the Russian language, enough to be able to read all normal Russian texts with the aid of a dictionary and to be able to speak the language at an elementary level. The finer points of grammar and syntax are taught, and these, together with new vocabulary, are reinforced and tested through regular translation exercises from and into Russian and short written quizzes. Spoken Russian is improved through small-group oral tuition classes with a native language instructor.

Class Hour: 10.00 am plus one oral hour to be arranged.

Teaching: Five classes.

Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, 2 Hour Examination = 60%

Re-Assessment: 3 Hour Examination = 100%

RU2003 Intermediate Russian Language and Literature I

Credits: 30.0 Semester: 1

Prerequisites: RU1002

Anti-requisites: RU2001, RU2005

Description: The module builds on the language teaching of the first year, and widens the range of literary texts studied so that the student is prepared for Honours Russian courses, for which it is a prerequisite. The most important elements of Russian grammar given in the First level modules are reinforced, and further points of grammar are taught. There are regular exercises of translation from Russian into English, and short written quizzes. Spoken Russian is improved through small-group tuition classes with a native language instructor. More literary texts in Russian are studied, and two essays are required.

Class Hour: 10.00 am and two hours to be arranged.

SP1003 Spanish for Beginners (1)

Credits: 20.0 Semester: 1

Anti-requisites: SP1013, SP1011

Description: The objective is to initiate Spanish language acquisition with a firm grounding in the syntax, morphology and vocabulary of the language. The skills developed are accuracy and fluency in reading, writing, listening and speaking. In classes, students are taught and practise new structures. In the computer classroom these skills are further enhanced through the individual use of a multimedia CALL program and video materials.

Class Hour: 2.00 pm or, if timetable clash, 3.00 pm

Teaching: Two language classes, two CALL classes sometimes replaced by audio-visual sessions, and self-access CALL work.

Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, 2 Hour Examination = 60%

Re-Assessment: 3 Hour Examination = 100%

Modern Languages – Sub-honours 2006/07 – April 2006

SP1004 Spanish for Beginners (2)

Credits: 20.0 Semester: 2
Prerequisite: SP1003
Anti-requisite: SP1012

Description: There are two classes of language instruction per week to continue language initiation and one hour based on CALL program and video materials to consolidate language acquisition and instil accuracy of expression. There are also one class hour and one reading group per week devoted to Spanish texts, chosen for their linguistic and cultural interest. Parallel texts and English sub-titled films are used initially, and the student is helped with annotated texts and computer glossary. Vocabulary and familiarisation with aspects of the Hispanic world are enhanced. A sound basis in the grammar of Spanish in this module facilitates entry into 2000 level modules in Spanish.

Class Hour: 2.00 pm or, if timetable clash, 3.00 pm
Teaching: Two language classes, one CALL class, one lecture and one reading group.
Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, 2 Hour Examination = 60%

SP1030 Introduction to Modern Latin America

Credits: 10.0 Semester: 2

Description: This module offers an introduction to modern Latin American history. Starting with the Wars of Independence (1804-1825), it traces the political history of Spanish America, Brazil and Haiti up to the present. Adopting a thematic approach, within a continental-based narrative, this module focuses on the early national period, the neocolonial period, the age of extremes and the age of neoliberalism. Recent trends towards democratisation within a context of globalisation will also be addressed. Whilst the module will stress the common themes between countries as far apart as Mexico and Argentina, it will nonetheless highlight specific national contexts. Key events such as the Mexican-American war, the Mexican Revolution, the Chaco War, the Cuban Revolution and Pinochet's coup of 1973 will all be studied.

Class Hour: 1.00 pm Monday and Friday
