History (HI) Modules

HI2001 History as a Discipline: Development & Key Concepts

Credits: 20 Semester: 2

Availability: 2011-12

Prerequisite: any three History modules (AN, ME or MO), including at least one at 2000-level.

Anti-requisite: MO2006

Description: This module provides an introduction to key theoretical and methodological approaches which have characterized the emergence of History as a discipline since mediaeval times. It covers a number of influential historical schools and perspectives, which are taught thematically with reference to the mediaeval, early modern and late modern periods. The module builds on knowledge acquired by students during their first three semesters of study and equips them with the skills to undertake honours work in History.

Class Hour: 11.00 am Monday, Tuesday and Thursday

Teaching: 3 lectures and 1 tutorial.

Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 50%, 2-hour Examination = 50%

Re-Assessment: 3-hour Examination = 100%

Mediaeval History (ME) Modules

ME1003 Transformation & Crisis in the Early Mediaeval World

Credits: 20 Semester: 1

Availability: 2011-12

Anti-requisite: ME1001, ME1004

Description: The Middle Ages began with the fifth-century crisis of the Roman Empire. This module examines how political, cultural and social life changed in the Byzantine, British and 'barbarian' worlds in response to major upheavals. The first half focuses on the period up to the ninth century, exploring how the West dealt with the collapse and rebuilding of empire, and how the Eastern Empire responded to the Islamic caliphate. In the second half, the module studies how the emerging certainties of the eighth century fell away and new challenges were posed by new invaders, new ideas, and changes in the structures of society. In contrast the East witnessed a gradual Byzantine revival and re-emergence as a major power.

Class Hour: 10.00 am Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday

Teaching: 3 lectures and 1 tutorial.

Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 50%, 2-hour Examination = 50%

Re-Assessment: 3-hour Examination = 100%

ME1006 Scotland & the English Empire 1070 - 1500

Credits: 20 Semester: 2

Availability: 2011-12

Anti-requisites: ME2001 and SC2003

Description: From the aftermath of the Norman Conquest of England to the close of the Fifteenth Century, the history of the island of Britain centred on the development of two monarchies: the English crown and its dominions and the kingdom of Scotland. This module has at its core the relationship between the two realms and comparisons of the different but related societies they contained. The English and Scottish realms are examined as specific examples of northern European kingdoms in the high and later Middle Ages. Attention is paid to their internal development and to issues of national identity but weight is also given to the full range of contacts between the princes and peoples of Britain and the wider world, in particular via the Church and through extensive ties with France and the Low Countries.

Class Hour: 10.00 am Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday

Teaching: 3 lectures and 1 tutorial.

Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 50%, 2-hour Examination = 50%

Re-Assessment: 3-hour Examination = 100%

ME2003 East & West: 1100 - 1500

Credits: 20 Semester: 1

Availability: 2011-12

Anti-requisite: ME1004, ME2001 and ME2004

Description: This module surveys the history of Europe and the Mediterranean world from the twelfth to the fifteenth centuries. The module takes thematic cross-sections which will enable students to understand not just the crucial events that shaped the period (such as the Crusades, the fall of Constantinople, the Black Death, the threat of Mongol invasions and popular rebellions), but also the mentalities of the people who experienced them. The thematic structure of tutorials will allow comparison within each theme, covering not just Europe but also the Byzantine and Islamic worlds. Possible themes may include political structures, popular devotion, religious dissent, transmission of intellectual thought, violence and warfare, marriage, childhood, the persecution of minorities, assimilation and co-existence and travel and exploration.

Class Hour: 3.00 pm Monday, Tuesday and Thursday

Teaching: 3 lectures and 1 tutorial.

Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 50%, 2-hour Examination = 50%

Re-Assessment: 3-hour Examination = 100%

History – 1000 & 2000 Level 2011/12 – October 2011

Modern History (MO) Modules

MO1007 The Early Modern Western World, c.1450 - c. 1700

Credits: 20 Semester: 1

Availability: 2011-12

Anti-requisites: MO1005 and MO1006

Description: This module will look at continental European history in the early modern period, and the expansion of Europe. The British Isles will not be a major focus of this module, but British material will be touched upon as part of broader European comparative treatment of several themes. The module will be structured into two halves: "New Worlds" and "The Struggle for Order": the first half will focus more (but not exclusively) on the period c.1450 - c.1600, the second half more on the period c.1600 - c.1770.

Class Hour: 12.00 noon Monday, Tuesday and Thursday

Teaching: 3 lectures and 1 tutorial.

Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 50%, 2-hour Examination = 50%

Re-Assessment: 3-hour Examination = 100%

MO1008 Themes in Late Modern History (c.1776 - 1989)

Credits: 20 Semester: 2

Availability: 2011-12

Anti-requisite: MO2007

Description: This module provides a thematic coverage of major political and social developments in the Western world during the 19th and 20th centuries. By adopting a thematic rather than chronological structure, it highlights continuities and ruptures in modern European, American and Middle Eastern history, with an emphasis on comparative approaches to subjects like revolution, ideology and rapid social and cultural change that have shaped the modern world.

Class Hour: 12.00 noon Monday, Tuesday and Thursday

Teaching: 3 lectures and 1 tutorial.

Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 50%, 2-hour Examination = 50%

Re-Assessment: 3-hour Examination = 100%

MO2008 Scotland, Britain & Empire, c. 1500 - 2000

Credits: 20 Semester: 1

Availability: 2011-12

Anti-requisite: SC2004

Description: This module provides an introduction to how and why the British nation state evolved from the separate kingdoms of England, Scotland and Ireland and how and why it has survived over the last three centuries. Such a project involves an analysis of the shifting relations between the component parts of the British Isles, and their overseas imperial activities, between 1500 - 2000. The core of the module is political history, broadly defined, and to facilitate more in-depth analysis of the range of factors impacting on political developments, the period is divided into four thematically coherent eras: the Reformations and the Making of Britain 1500 -1660; Britain and the Atlantic World 1660 - 1815; Industrial Britain and the Rise of Empire 1750 - 1918; the Decline and Fall of Empire: Britain in the Twentieth Century.

Class Hour: 11.00 am, Monday, Tuesday and Thursday

Teaching: 3 lectures and 1 tutorial.

Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 50%, 2-hour Examination = 50%

Re-Assessment: 3-hour Examination = 100%

The details of the Honours modules – that is 3000-level and 4000-level modules – which relate to the programmes listed in this section, are available in the Honours Course Catalogue.
